Paulist Press

Greetings from Paulist Press,

As we embark on another new year, our wish for you is that you find happiness and fulfillment in your work.

As you may know, since 1865, as a mission of the Paulist Fathers, Paulist Press shares the joy of the gospel at the intersection of faith and culture. We listen to and share the quest for meaning with all people of good will.

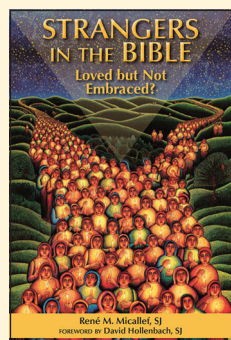

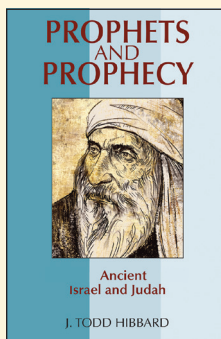

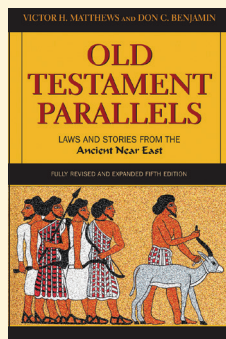

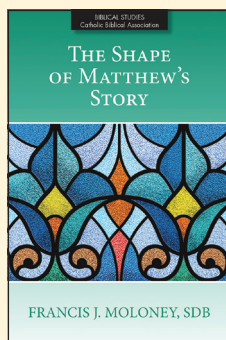

As a leading Catholic communicator, Paulist Press articulates the ongoing reception of the Second Vatican Council and the current synodal process by:

- Listening to the joys, hopes, griefs, and the anxieties of people at this most challenging time, especially those voices that are underserved or on the margins of the human community.
- Dialoguing with our Christian brothers and sisters, men and women of different faiths, and all spiritual seekers.
- Promoting the best religious scholarship and spirituality that relates and serves the needs of our time.
- Presenting the riches of the Catholic tradition to Catholics and all people of goodwill.

Readers of this catalog will find much to fit their scholarly, textbook, and personal needs. In the area of Scripture, we are proud to announce several new titles, including The Shape of Matthew's Story, The Gospel of Mark, (page 3), the 5th revised and expanded edition of Old Testament Parallels (page 13) and Prophets and Prophecy (page 14). In the area of ethics, we are about to publish Strangers in the Bible: Loved but not Embraced? (page 17) and in our historic Ancient Christian Writer Series, we are proud to finally publish St. Irenaeus Against the Heresies, Books 4 & 5 (page 25).

Please browse our catalog and we welcome your feedback. Wishing you a successful and meaningful academic year.

The Shape of Matthew's Story

Francis J. Moloney, SDB

This “reading” of the Gospel of Matthew is neither novel nor groundbreaking. Nor is it universally accepted by commentators on the Gospel. This book strives to focus on the “big picture” to show that an early Christian author developed a carefully constructed story from the sources that came to him, and that he shaped them to communicate a “point of view” about God, Jesus Christ, Christian discipleship, and the Christian Church.

Francis J. Moloney, SDB, AM, FAHA, has had a long career as a Roman Catholic priest and a scholar. A Salesian of Don Bosco (SDB) since 1960, he has studied at the Salesian Pontifical University and the Pontifical Biblical Institute, both in Rome, as well as at the University of Oxford.

The Gospel of Mark

A Theological Reading

José Enrique Aguilar Chiu

This book provides a concise introduction to the Gospel of Mark, giving emphasis to the theological message of the book. The thesis of this book is that it is possible to understand the entire narrative as a coherent theological exposition of the life and mission of Jesus, and that such narrative involves the reader vis-à-vis the person of Jesus. The recognition of the identity of Jesus does not leave the reader just with more information about the life of Jesus (e.g., in the case of a biography), nor it simply offers a description of the difficult path of discipleship (e.g., in the case of a drama or a novel), but invites the readers to unite themselves to Jesus and to follow his path, acknowledging the necessary work of the Spirit of Jesus.

José Enrique Aguilar Chiu is Professor of Biblical Theology at St. Joseph's Seminary (Dunwoodie) in New York. A member of the SNTS, SBL, and CBA, he is one of the general editors of The Paulist Biblical Commentary (Paulist Press 2017). He obtained his doctorate in Scripture at the Pontifical Biblical Institute (Rome) and has written several academic articles and books.

Words of Faith

A Vocabulary of Paul the Apostle

Brendan J. Byrne, SJ

This work offers over 100 concise discussions of key Pauline words and concepts. Its primary focus lies on the seven undisputed letters, though material in the remaining letters traditionally attributed to Paul, especially Ephesians and Colossians, while treated separately, is not neglected. While accuracy has required reference to the relevant Greek words in each case, the use of transliteration renders the work accessible to non-specialists and students as well to established scholars. Each entry is completed with an up to date indication of further reading in the area concerned. Compiled from a distinctly theological perspective and the product of over five decades of research and teaching in Pauline studies, the vocabulary is an indispensable resource for scholar and student alike.

Brendan Byrne, SJ, is professor emeritus of New Testament at the University of Divinity (Melbourne). He continues to give retreats and workshops on Scripture and Ignatian spirituality in Australia and elsewhere.

The Critical Meaning of the Bible

How a Modern Reading of the Bible Challenges Christians, the Church, and the Churches

Raymond E. Brown, PSS
Revised & Updated by
Ronald D. Witherup, PSS

“The word of God is living and active, sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing to the division of soul, discerning the thoughts of the heart.”

“So proclaims the Letter to the Hebrews. Yet for many persons the biblical word of God is less a sharp sword than a crutch, supporting rather than piercing them. Interpreted as they have ‘always’ heard it, Scripture tells them exactly what they want to hear. Modern critical investigation of the Bible can change that radically....”

Raymond E. Brown wrote the above words for the original edition of this book. He was convinced that modern, historical-critical study of the Bible as the word of God was neither a threat to the Christian faith nor a denial of its spiritual and theological dimensions. On the contrary, his goal was to demonstrate Scripture’s profound impact on the life of the Church, leading to ongoing conversion in every era.

Raymond Edward Brown SS was an American Sulpician priest and prominent biblical scholar.

Ronald D. Witherup, PSS, STL, PhD, is an internationally recognized biblical scholar who has published many books and articles in the area of Bible and theology.

PaperProphets and ProphecyAncient Israel and JudahJ. Todd Hibbard

This volume introduces readers to the prophets of ancient Israel by focusing on the variety of roles they played in ancient Israelite society. Starting from the basic definition of prophets as mediators between God and the community, the author explores the activities and messages of prophets in their various social, historical, political, economic, and religious contexts. The basic question always before us is: What did prophets do in ancient Israel? To answer this, Hibbard offers a close, critical analysis of the biblical literature by and about prophets. The result is an analysis of prophets as royal advisors, political pundits, religious specialists, social critics, miracle workers, poets, and scribes.

J. Todd Hibbard, who holds a PhD from the University of Notre Dame, is associate professor of religious studies and chair of the Department of Religious Studies, at University of Detroit Mercy.

What Are They Saying About the Book of Jonah?

WHAT ARE THEY SAYING ABOUT SERIES

Rhiannon Graybill, John Kaltner, and Steven L. McKenzie

Aimed at a general audience, this book provides an overview of how biblical scholars have addressed important issues related to the biblical book of Jonah. Moving far beyond “the story about that guy and the whale,” this work leads readers to appreciate how complex a work Jonah is and the unique contribution it makes to biblical literature.

“Both erudite and readable, this book masterfully synthesizes recent scholarship on Jonah via a close reading, a survey of the book’s mysteries, and a review of its reception across time.”

—James D. Nogalski, professor of Hebrew Bible, W. Marshall and Lulie Craig Professor of Bible, Baylor University

“These scholars combine their expertise with clear and engaging prose, perfect for the undergraduate classroom or Bible study groups. I especially appreciate their discussions of the Jonah traditions in Christianity, Judaism, and Islam.”

—Corrine L. Carvalho, professor of theology, University of St. Thomas

Rhiannon Graybill is W.J. Millard Professor of Religion at Rhodes College.

John Kaltner is professor of Muslim-Christian Relations at Rhodes College.

Steve McKenzie is Professor of Hebrew Bible/Old Testament in the Department of Religious Studies and Spence L. Wilson Senior Research Fellow at Rhodes College.

Queerness in the Catholic Church

Wanted, Loved, Blessed

Edited by Wolfgang F. Rothe

Queerness in the Catholic Church is a collection of unique personal stories by several LGBTQIA+ Catholics who share their own experiences within the Church. Although the contributors are based in Germany, their experiences connect and relate to all Catholics who have experienced marginalization, discrimination, and hurt by the Church, yet also know the love, beauty, goodness, and faith of Catholicism.

“Often people ask me, ‘How can you be Catholic and LGBTQ?’ The answer is easy: LGBTQ people who have been baptized Catholic are both. But just as often these questions are asked because the questioner has no experience with, and has heard no stories from, LGBTQ Catholics. This eye-opening new volume collects many such stories of both the ‘joys and hopes’ and ‘griefs and anxieties,’ as the Second Vatican Council said, of this important community in the Church. Come to know their stories, come to know these people, come to know this community, come to know compassion, come to know God.”

—JAMES MARTIN, SJ, author of Building a Bridge

Wolfgang F. Rothe was born in 1967 and ordained a Catholic priest in 1996. He earned his doctorate in theology and canon law. He is also an expert in Scotch whiskey and is known as the “Whiskey Vicar” for his books, blogs, and videos on Scotch. ## Strangers in the Bible

Loved but Not Embraced

René Micallef

In this book, Fr. René Micallef, a Maltese Jesuit, reflects on biblical hospitality and kinship building with strangers. Acts 28:1–10 speaks of the hospitality of the Maltese, but also of their fear and suspicions regarding Paul, the stranger. Such biblical stories of hospitality may become part of a national identity: welcoming tourists and rich investors strengthens that narrative, but welcoming poor, black and non-Christian asylum seekers and immigrants may put that narrative to the test. In recent years, all over the world, mass migration has provoked and unmasked a deep fear of the other.

There is no easy way of building trust with the “other,” but we can learn from historical experiences such as that of biblical Israel and of the first Christian communities. It is worth exploring not only the positive and commendable passages and behaviors, but also the fear and hostility present in biblical texts, as well as the struggle to overcome such reactions. The book explores the Bible in all its complexity to help contemporary readers think through modern political issues critically. Only by educating young Christians to honest and critical thinking can we engender deep, reasoned and trusting faithfulness to the Gospel of mercy, Church authority and tradition.

René Micallef, SJ, is associate professor in the Department of Moral Theology, Faculty of Theology at the Pontifical Gregorian University.

Katharine Drexel and the Sisters Who Shared Her Vision*Margaret M. McGuinness

Although Katharine Drexel has been the subject of several biographies, they have tended to treat her as a perfect human being whom the Church later transformed into a saint. Katherine Drexel and the Sisters Who Shared Her Vision moves beyond the story of the heiress's individual life devoted to God and shines a light on the work she did, assisted by the Sisters of the Blessed Sacrament. Drexel could have lived comfortably, wealthy and privileged, as a Philadelphia philanthropist but chose to found a religious congregation of women dedicated to working within Black and Indigenous communities—without receiving the bulk of the money left by Drexel's father. The author's careful examination of the work Drexel and her Sisters accomplished in Philadelphia and elsewhere shows impacts on the Church while also revealing racial issues at work in the story. This brings a critical perspective to Drexel's ministry to further our understanding of the Black Catholic community and renew our commitment to the difficult, ongoing conversation about race in America.

Margaret McGuinness, PhD, is professor emerita of religion at La Salle University of Philadelphia, where she also served as vice president of mission.

Pope Francis as Moral Leader

Ethicist, Discerner, Communicator, and Advocate for Social Justice

Thomas Massaro, SJ

Pope Francis as Moral Leader describes and analyzes the contribution of Pope Francis as an ethicist, a practitioner of discernment, a skilled communicator, and a strong advocate for social justice on the global stage. It highlights Francis's leadership qualities and the ethical achievements of his papacy as he appeals to ethical values and proposes teachings and practices that embody mercy and justice for the church and world.

Thomas Massaro, SJ, is professor of moral theology at Fordham University. A Jesuit priest of the USA East Province, he served as professor of moral theology at Weston Jesuit School of Theology in Cambridge, Massachusetts, at Boston College, and at Jesuit School of Theology of Santa Clara University, where he also served as dean. Father Massaro holds a doctorate in Christian social ethics from Emory University. His nine books and over one hundred published articles treat Catholic social teaching and its recommendations for public policies oriented to social justice, peace, worker rights, and poverty alleviation.

Called to Witness Hope

The Ministry of Catechist

Hosffman Ospino

foreword by Sr. Rosalia Meza, VDMF

This is a meditation about the vocation of the catechist. Whether you are a seasoned catechist or considering the invitation to become one, Called to Witness Hope reflects on the joy as well as the responsibilities of being someone who echoes the faith to others. A catechist is, first and foremost, a person living the grace of Baptism in the everyday, a joyful missionary disciple, a passionate witness of God's love in history. Starting with some thoughts on the calling to be a catechist, the book invites readers to contemplate four images meant to inspire deeper appreciation for this ministry: evangelizer, bridge, companion, and prophet of hope.

Called to Witness Hope builds upon the impetus generated by Pope Francis's institution of the ministry of catechist in his apostolic letter Antiquum Ministerium (2021), the text of which is part of the book. This book is neither a commentary on the apostolic letter nor an analysis of the specialized ministry of the instituted catechist. This is a work about all catechists and for all catechists—a meditation on the beauty and power of this vocation.

The Heart of a Disciple

Robert J. McCarty

Discipleship is a great adventure, but at times, we all need to nourish or rejuvenate our spirit. The Heart of a Disciple aims to help uncover the grace that keeps us moving forward in ministry and faith, even as the fire that first burned might become faint. Reflection, discussion prompts, and prayers invite pastoral leaders, faith-sharing groups, or solitary travelers to a renewed life and spirit.

Bob McCarty, DMin, is a pastoral ministry consultant offering retreats, presentations, and training in ministry skills and assisting Catholic ministry organizations in mission assessment and strategic pastoral planning. Bob volunteers in catechetical and adult faith formation at St. Francis of Assisi Parish in Fulton, MD.

A Fundamental Theology of the Priesthood

*Proceedings of the Symposium
Sponsored by the Center for Research and Anthropology of Vocations;*

VOLUME 1

Edited by Cardinal Marc Ouellet

The Symposium for a Fundamental Theology of the Priesthood, held at the Vatican from February 17 to 19, 2022, inaugurated a new phase of theological and pastoral reflection in the context of contemporary questions regarding the ministry of priests and the priesthood of the baptized. The deepening of the relationship between the two participations in the one priesthood of Christ is fundamental for renewing the mission of the Church in the spirit of openness and dialogue of the Second Vatican Council.

This perspective is also pertinent for the promotion and communication of all vocations, especially that of women, whose charisms are yet to be fully recognized and integrated within the life of the Church. This reflection also offers synodal practice a solid theological foundation for making the participation of the faithful dynamic.

Cardinal Marc Ouellet he was ordained a bishop by Pope John Paul II on March, 2001 and then appointed metropolitan archbishop of Quebec and primate of Canada. He was created cardinal in 2001. In 2010, Pope Benedict XVI appointed him prefect of the Congregation (now Dicastery) for Bishops, and president of the Pontifical Commission for Latin America. He was confirmed in those two positions by Pope Francis.

A Fundamental Theology of the PriesthoodAdditional PerspectivesVOLUME 2*Edited by Cardinal Marc Ouellet

The Symposium for a Fundamental Theology of the Priesthood, held at the Vatican from February 17 to 19, 2022, inaugurated a new phase of theological and pastoral reflection in the context of contemporary questions regarding the ministry of priests and the priesthood of the baptized.

This second volume presents additional perspectives that are also pertinent for the promotion and communication of all vocations, especially that of women, whose charisms are yet to be fully recognized and integrated in their rightful place within the life of the Church. Finally, and no less important, these perspectives offer a synodal practice to a solid theological foundation for making the participation of the faithful dynamic in the exercise of the ordained ministry, which thus actively and permanently exercises the gifts and charisms that the Holy Spirit has poured out on all baptized people.

Cardinal Marc Ouellet was created cardinal in 2003. In 2010, Pope Benedict XVI appointed him prefect of the Congregation (now Dicastery) for Bishops, and president of the Pontifical Commission for Latin America. He was confirmed in those two positions by Pope Francis.

An Introduction to Christian Spirituality

Michael J. McClymond

This book offers a wide-angle and yet integrative approach to Christian spirituality, engaging diverse historical traditions, incorporating recent developments in Asia, Africa, Latin America, and in global Pentecostalism, while displaying an essential unity in this topic in relation to a number of salient themes (e.g., love, humility, prayer, servanthood, etc.).

The book is geared toward students in college courses. It should also be of particular interest to practicing Christians across a very broad spectrum of traditions and denominations, and engages secular, Jewish, and Muslim readers, as well as those practicing one of the traditional Asian religions.

Michael McClymond, who holds a PhD in theology from the University of Chicago. He is professor of modern Christianity at St. Louis University.

Uniting Mind, Body, Spirit

Science and the Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius

Roy Pereira, SJ

Foreword by Arturo Sosa, SJ

Uniting Mind, Body, Spirit considers the human person as a composite of body-mind-spirit. The book covers different ways of healing the body-mind-spirit and helping the person to reach full potential.

The book is divided into six chapters each focusing on different aspects like the uncertainty in everyday life; how some wellness tools like mindfulness and meditation can be utilized to reap the best results; the inaction around the decision-making process and how certain exercises or approaches can help bring behavior change to overcome “decision laziness”; applications of some of the interesting neuroscience research and Ignatian spirituality to the human welfare.

The book provides the necessary tools to embrace uncertainty and change and to live a flourishing life even as we navigate choppy waters. The musical compositions and guided audio meditations that are accessible using a QR code make this book truly a fulfilling multimedia wellness experience.

Roy Pereira, SJ, has a PhD from Boston College in the interdisciplinary areas of chemistry, neuroscience and consciousness. He is currently teaching at Loyola Marymount University, Los Angeles and overseeing mental health and wellness on the campus as special assistant to the senior vice president.

Why God?

Stories to Inspire Faith

Richard Leonard, SJ

Why God? is a collection of stories and is divided into four parts: Church; Liturgy and Sacraments; Society; and Faith and Spirituality. Through these very personal and engaging stories, the author provides insights into the way God works through people and often unexpected places and events. These true stories speak of the power of God working in creation and through the unlikely individuals and places that we discover God's transforming love.

Richard Leonard, SJ, has degrees in arts and education, as well as a master's degree in theology. He is an Honorary Fellow of the Australian Catholic University; has been a visiting scholar within the School of Theatre, Film & Television at UCLA and a Visiting Professor at the Pontifical Gregorian University in Rome. He directed the Australian Catholic Office for Film & Broadcasting for the Australian Catholic Bishops Conference for 22 years.

On Earth as it is in Heaven

Jubilee Edition

Josephine Lombardi

Josephine Lombardi, one of North America's most highly respected theologians, has written a practical and inviting book to show how the Lord's Prayer can be a powerful spiritual guide for daily living. In this revised edition, Lombardi has drawn from her reflections on the last 12 years since this book was first published to provide new insight into the wisdom and depth of this prayer.

Drawing from her own life as a respected theologian, wife and young mother, On Earth as it is in Heaven is full of personal reflections, spiritual meditations and insightful anecdotes. Each section analyzes one line of the Lord's Prayer, followed by reflection questions and a short prayer. The result is a rich resource that nourishes the personal prayer life of adult Christians. This jewel of a book reveals God's relationship to us as being filled with intimacy and trust. Lombardi promotes the Lord's Prayer as a source of restoration and hope for families and society alike.

Josephine Lombardi teaches theology at St. Augustine's Seminary in Toronto.

This is a modern take on classical spirituality, but the author's experience in the field of mental health and spiritual direction, and his work with L'Arche, are reflected in his approach. He focuses more on the process of dwelling in the experience of darkness and difficulty—what he refers to as the “middle space”—rather than a treatise on the Dark Night of the Soul, accepting and overcoming it. He feels that this “middle space” has been neglected and is worth exploring. This will be greatly consoling to those who are in darkness and searching for its end—the idea of resting in it for a time.

Teresa of AvilaSpirituality for Every DayRichard Norton

This book considers how Teresa of Avila (1515-1582) developed a practical spirituality drawn from the natural world, trading, wealth, poverty, and those things which make a house a home and so found God in objects we take for granted but which can enhance our contemplative prayer.

After an introductory Chapter about the context in which Teresa lived and worked a further six chapters follow. The concern her understanding of the soul of nature and the nature of the soul, God and the economy, the acquisition and use of earthly and heavenly riches, material objects and flavors as a metaphor for the presence of God. The re then follows a conclusion drawing together in summary all the themes encountered in the book to show how this aspect of Teresian spirituality is practical and can be applied to Christian life and practice today.

Richard Norton is an independent theologian who has taught systematic theology and church history in a variety of contexts in the UK and around the world. He is also a specialist in medieval theology and mysticism, especially those of Julian of Norwich and Teresa of Avila and has addressed major international conferences.

The Spiritual Exercises with Teilhard de Chardin

Augustín Udías, SJ

This book presents here a series of texts taken from the writings of Teilhard de Chardin, which give us a new perspective on the traditional meditations of the Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius Loyola, now illuminated through the changing world presented to us by the sciences and the presence of Christ in it. Through these texts, we can get close to this new approach to the Exercises, which has received little attention so far.

Teilhard de Chardin's spirituality is reflected in his practice of the Exercises. To him, the meditations of the Exercises must adapt to the new circumstances and desires of the modern world, influenced above all by the progress of science and technology. The meditations of the Exercises, devised by St. Ignatius from a static conception of the universe, must adapt today to the perspective of a dynamic world, developing from the Big Bang to this day, and continuing through human effort and work.

To Teilhard, the incarnation represents God's integration into the world in Christ, so that he is the end point, or Omega, and the entire evolution aims to him. This vision of Christ should be the one that illuminates us today in the meditations of the Exercises. Teilhard expands the presence of Christ to the whole universe and considers it as Christic presence in his "cosmic" nature.

Fear and Faith

Hope and Wholeness in a Fractured World

Daniel P. Horan, OFM

In this book, readers will find a constructive Christian spirituality in response to fear in our world of crisis, which draws on wisdom from the natural and social sciences, great Christian witnesses, and the tradition of Christian mysticism, and theology of the Holy Spirit.

How do we cultivate a faith that does not succumb to fear? What is Christian hope and what does it look like to embrace it in the face of such fearful circumstances? Can we retrieve or develop an understanding of the Holy Spirit that better grounds us in times of crisis and moments of fear? The author explores these and other questions that are as perennial in the Christian tradition as they are urgent today. Each chapter builds on the relationship between fear and faith by examining the nature of fear and hope in Christian spirituality, drawing from the wisdom of key witnesses and spiritual masters who offer us a prophetic challenge in the face of fear, and articulating a renewed pneumatology—theology of the Spirit—that may ground us in a time of crisis

Daniel P. Horan, OFM, PhD is professor of philosophy, religious studies and theology and Director of the Center for Spirituality at Saint Mary's College in Notre Dame, Indiana. He is also a columnist for the National Catholic Reporter and the author of fourteen books.

Christology and Global Ethics

Encountering the Poor in a Pluralist Reality

Alexandre A. Martins

This book offers a Christological account developed among the poor in Latin America and their experience of a God incarnated in history. It places two realities together: the academia, where faith is object of studies, and the grass-roots community, where faith is embodied. The reader is introduced to a contemporary Christological discussion from a Latin American liberating perspective with three essential characteristics: first, it is a Christology created from the reality of the poor and marginalized and, at the same time, oriented toward this reality as a pastoral resource. Second, its method goes beyond the polarization Christology from below and Christology from above. Third, it is a Christological essay that has a biblical text at its center (Lk 4, 16–30) as a starting point from where important theological disciplines are stressed, such as systematic theology, moral theology, and liturgy. In this way, this book presents to the readers how different areas of theology are related and form a unity around the mystery of Christ and the faith experience of a Christian community. Therefore, it is an excellent book to initiate people in theological studies and method that can be used in theological classes in colleges, schools, and Catholic communities.

Alexandre A. Martins is a Brazilian bioethicist and theological ethicist who holds a joint position at Theology Department and College of Nursing at Marquette University. He specializes in health care ethics and social ethics, focusing on public health, global health, Catholic social teaching, liberation theology, and Simone Weil.

When Science Goes Wrong

The Desire and Search for Truth

Guy Consolmagno, SJ, and Christopher M. Graney

The science/faith discussion is often hindered by a fundamental misunderstanding of the role and function of science. The ways that science has gone wrong is illustrated with a series of historical essays describing ideas about the universe, planet Earth, and the evolution of life that were all based on ideas that were reasonable...but ultimately wrong. Some are amusing in retrospect; others are tragic.

Theology, philosophy, or even mathematics may lay claim to eternal truths, but in science our very cosmologies change. Just as the major religions have adapted in the face of changing cultural cosmologies, so too has science adapted in the face of challenging new observations and new ideas. Religions and science are strengthened by experiencing a shift in our assumptions; that's where we find out what's essential, and what is cultural baggage.

Brother Guy Consolmagno, SJ, holds a PhD in planetary science from the University of Arizona. At the Vatican Observatory since 1993, his research has explored connections between meteorites, asteroids. In 2015, Pope Francis named him director of the Vatican Observatory.

Christopher Graney In 2017, Professor Graney became editor of the Vatican Observatory Foundation's Faith and Science online resource. In 2019, he was appointed an adjunct scholar of the Vatican Observatory; in 2021, he became and is currently press officer for the Vatican Observatory Foundation.

Women and the Church examines the history of Christian feminism as a response to patriarchy, the ways in which women have been portrayed in scripture and women's hermeneutical strategies, and the seminal contributions of women to the subfields of systematic theology. Unlike many books in this genre, which are collections of essays by diverse authors, Women and the Church is written from one author's perspective as an attempt to systematize the historic presence and absence of women in Roman Catholicism.

Restoring the Gospels' Jewish Voice

André Chouraqui and the Intersection of Biblical Translation and Interfaith Dialogue

Murray Watson

Although Chouraqui and his work are well known and celebrated in many parts of the world (especially in Israel, and in the francophone world), he is almost completely unknown in the anglophone world. This book represents an attempt to introduce his important work and inspiring legacy to an English-speaking audience, and to explore how it can enrich Jewish-Christian dialogue today. As a bilingual translator and biblical scholar, I am able to make Chouraqui's work accessible to English speakers who are unfamiliar with him—who may be intrigued by him but unable to directly access much of the material written by and about him in French.

Murray Watson is a Catholic Biblical scholar and interreligious activist. He currently serves as the adult faith formation Animator for the Simcoe Muskoka Catholic District School Board, based in the city of Barrie, Ontario (Canada).
