Giotto

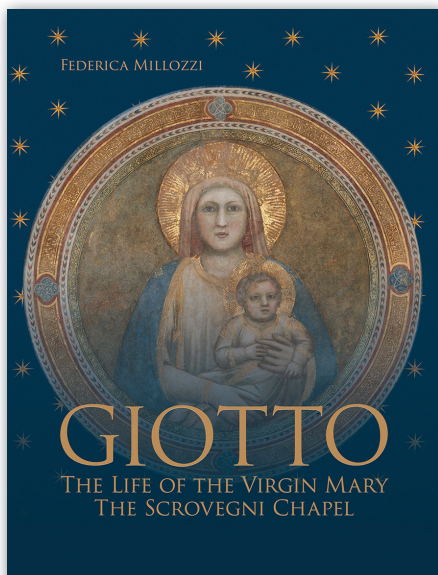

THE LIFE OF THE VIRGIN MARY – THE SCROVEGNI CHAPEL

FEDERICA MILLOZZI

The most important Italian painter of the 14th century

Through the results of a new photographic campaign, this volume offers an unprecedented and surprising closeness to Giotto's masterpieces. It provides a further and enchanting perspective that enriches the experience for those who have visited the Scrovegni Chapel in person, as well as offering a profound inspiration to those who have not yet done so.

Printed in Italian and English.

L'Adorazione dei Magi

La scena con l'arrivo dei tre Re magi dall'Oriente, giunti ad adorare il Bambino Gesù appena nato, diviene per Giotto anche l'occasione per dimostrare la sua conoscenza degli astri: rappresenta infatti in maniera realistica un corpo celeste con una coda, probabilmente la cometa di Halley che aveva solcato i cieli europei nel 1301, e non una stella stilizzata a otto punte come quelle del cielo del Paradiso che trappuntano la volta celeste della Cappella.

La ricerca della resa del dato naturale e realistico si ritrova anche nella rappresentazione dei due cammelli, al margine del riquadro, del paesaggio roccioso e della stalla in "prospettiva".

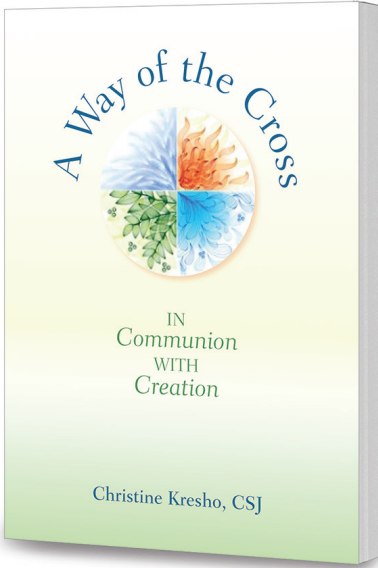

Sempre fedele al racconto evangelico, Giotto delinea il momento preciso nel quale uno dei Re magi ha già consegnato il suo dono a un angelo e, toltasi la corona dal capo, s'inginocchia davanti a Gesù Bambino baciandolo, mentre gli altri due assistono con in mano incenso e mirra.

The Adoration of the Magi

The scene with the arrival of the three Wise Men from the East, who have come to worship the newborn baby Jesus, also becomes an opportunity for Giotto to demonstrate his knowledge of the stars. In fact, he realistically depicts a celestial body with a tail, probably Halley's comet that had crossed the European skies in 1301, and not a stylised eight-pointed star like those in the heavens of Paradise that dot the celestial vault of the Chapel.

Evidence of the rendering of the natural and realistic elements is also found in the representation of the two camels, at the edge of the panel, the rocky landscape and the stable in 'perspective'.

Always faithful to the Gospel story, Giotto delineates the precise moment in which one of the Magi has already handed over his gift to an angel and, removing the crown from his head, kneels before the Child Jesus kissing him, while the other two assist with frankincense and myrrh in their hands.

A Way of the Cross

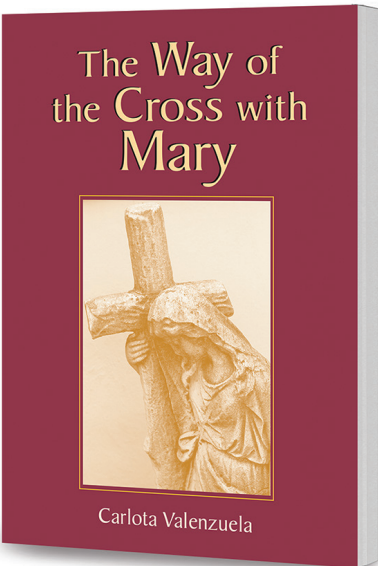

IN COMMUNION WITH CREATION

CHRISTINE KRESHO, CSJ

A Way of the Cross offers 14 Stations of the Cross plus an optional 15th Station. Each station begins with a brief opening prayer and consists of two paragraphs labeled Jesus speaks and We respond. When Jesus speaks, he links his historical suffering to present day pain and distress experienced by our brothers and sisters. In the answer to Jesus, We respond by asking for open eyes, hearts, and forgiveness.

SR. CHRISTINE KRESHO, CSJ, based in Silver Spring, Maryland, is a team member of the congregation's St. Joseph Spirituality Center.

The Way of the Cross with Mary

CARLOTA VALENZUELA

This book of meditations for each station focuses on the women involved in the Way of the Cross, particularly viewing Jesus's sufferings from his mother Mary's perspective as if she were journeying along with him. These meditations are insightful and prayers accompanying each station are heartfelt.

CARLOTA VALENZUELA left the corporate world to answer a call: to make a pilgrimage on foot from Finisterre to Jerusalem. Currently, Carlota spreads her enthusiasm for Christ in audiovisual projects such as the series Hagan Lio, which seeks to document the hidden beauty of the Church.

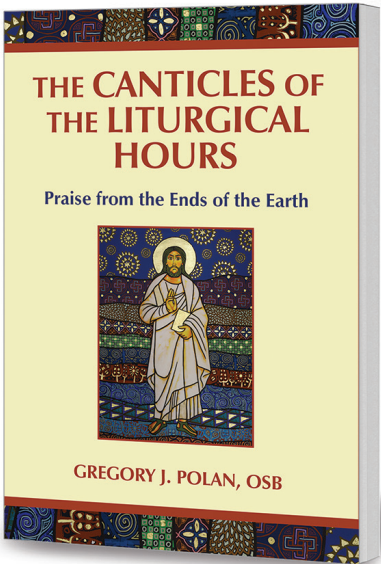

The Canticles of the Liturgical Hours

PRAISE FROM THE ENDS OF THE EARTH

GREGORY J. POLAN, OSB

A Spiritual commentary

The Canticles on the Liturgical Hours is intended to be of service to those who regularly pray the Liturgy of the Hours and are not familiar with the distinct passages used, and not part of the Psalter. They serve a purpose to distinguish seasons of the Liturgical Year, certain feasts, and the four-week cycle of Lauds and Vespers.

Whole People in a Broken World

THE ETHICS OF MERCY AND THE PASTORAL MISSION OF THE CHURCH

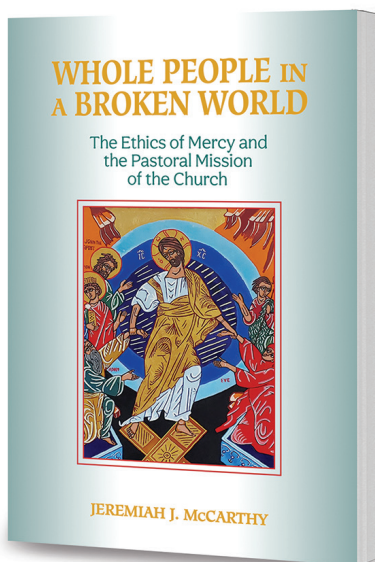

JEREMIAH J. MCCARTHY

This book draws upon moral theology to promote a deeper understanding of the criteria for evaluating moral action and the formation of the moral agent. It responds to an astute observation by Fr. Norbert Rigali SJ that moral theology and pastoral practice stand in a complementary relationship of mutual correlation rather than in polar opposition, an insight is also at the heart of the moral and pastoral vision of Pope Francis.

MSGR. JEREMIAH MCCARTHY, PhD, is a priest of the Diocese of Tucson, Arizona, and has been serving as professor of moral theology at Oblate School of Theology, San Antonio, Texas. He earned his PhD from the Graduate

Our Mother Too

MARY EMBRACES THE WORLD

SHANNON K. EVANS AND

ERIC A. CLAYTON

ILLUSTRATED BY RYAN MCQUADE

This book introduces Mary to children as a compelling character in her own right—as she no doubt was in real life—while weaving in Christian tradition and a Christ-centered message.

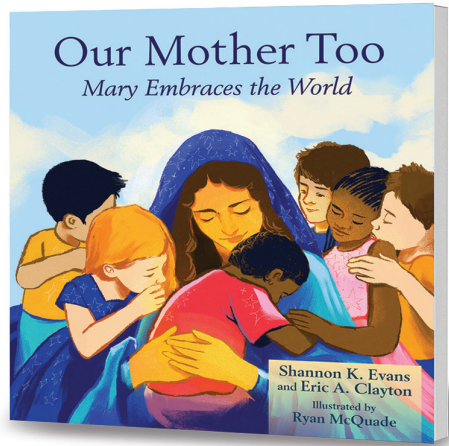

Inspired by her son, Jesus, Mary sets out on a worldwide mission to bring the love of God to people in every culture.

SHANNON K. EVANS is the spirituality and culture editor at the National Catholic Reporter. She lives in Iowa.

ERIC A. CLAYTON is an award-winning writer, speaker, storyteller and retreat leader.

So You Were Born

POPE FRANCIS

ILLUSTRATED BY MARTINA PELUSO

The words of this book are drawn from Pope Francis's own words on children and families. The beautiful illustrations accompany Pope Francis's simple words, which communicate the importance of each child and family.

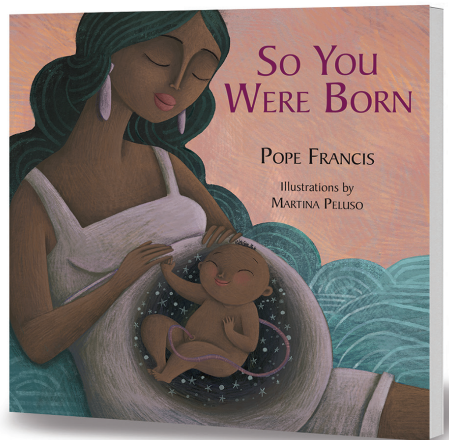

POPE FRANCIS, Jorge Mario Bergoglio, was born in Buenos Aires on December 17, 1936, and became bishop of Rome and the 266th pope of the Catholic Church on March 13, 2013.

MARTINA PELUSO has worked in all areas of illustration including advertising, packaging, editorial and design. Her artwork has been exhibited throughout the world and she has illustrated several children's books.
