LISTENING TO THE HEART OF GOD

RICHARD LEONARD, SJ

Sunday Reflections— Year A

This book was inspired by the author's YouTube videos of his homilies taken from Preaching to the Converted. Each Sunday reflection offers a brief "faith byte" for readers to ponder for the week. They have been adapted from the larger book to appeal to a younger audience and those who have a busy schedule.

101 Questions & Answers on Catholic Social Teaching

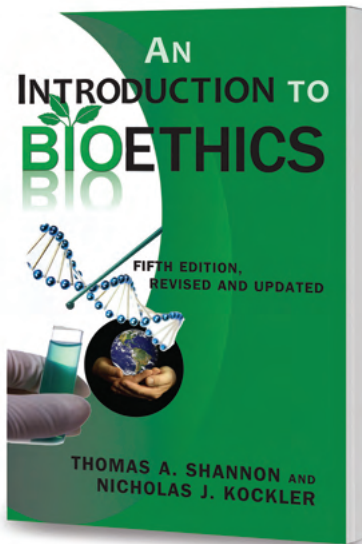

THIRD EDITION

KENNETH R. HIMES

A concise overview of what the major documents of the tradition say about political, economic, and social life, making accessible the key ideas that the Church has proclaimed in the area of social teaching. The updates include the work of Pope Francis, such as Fratelli tutti and Laudato si', which are integrated into the context of earlier papal writings and statements.

KENNETH R. HIMES, O.F.M., is professor emeritus at Boston College. He currently serves as Franciscan Scholar in Residence at Siena University in Albany, NY. A former president of the Catholic Theological Society of America, Himes is the author or editor of nine books and more than one hundred essays, often on aspects of Catholic social teaching.

Toward a More Perfect Communion

CATHOLIC WISDOM FOR A POLARIZED AGE

RICKY MANALO, CSP

A Prophetic Catholic vision for healing

What makes this book unique is its dual focus on both the U.S. Catholic Church and the American civic sphere—treating polarization not as two parallel crises but as one shared spiritual and cultural wound. Unlike many books that address political polarization solely from a civic or ideological lens, this book draws deeply from Catholic theological, liturgical, and pastoral traditions—especially the practices of reconciliation, Catholic social teaching, and synodality—as pathways toward healing. It also uniquely bridges ecclesial and secular efforts, inviting mutual learning between Church and society rather than placing one as the savior of the other.

A Human Portrait of Jesus

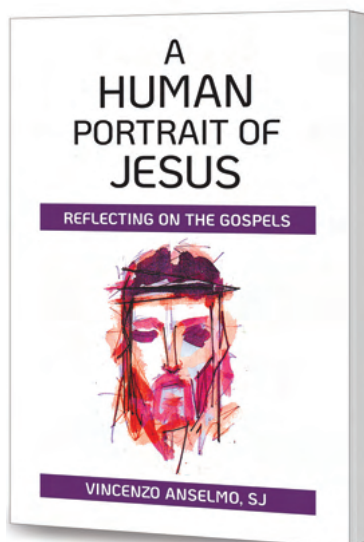

REFLECTING ON THE GOSPELS

VINCENZO ANSELMO, SJ

The Gospels reveal a deeply human Jesus—one who rejoices and weeps, shows anger and compassion, and loves with a tender, ardent heart. This book explores how each Gospel portrays the emotions, interior life, and humanity of Christ.

VINCENZO ANSELMO, SJ, is a Jesuit priest and biblical scholar. He earned a doctorate in Biblical Theology from the Pontifical Gregorian University and serves as Extraordinary Professor of Hebrew and Old Testament at the Pontifical Theological Faculty of Southern Italy – San Luigi. He is the author of Tu mi scruti e mi conosci and a regular contributor to La Civiltà Cattolica.

CHRISTIAN LIFE IN TODAY'S WORLD

WALTER KASPER

The Challenge of Mercy: Christian Life in Today's World offers a popular treatment of Cardinal Walter Kasper's influential 2014 work, Mercy: The Essence of the Gospel and the Key to Christian Life. In this accessible volume, Kasper restores mercy to its central place in Christian faith and practice, showing that it is not a secondary virtue but the very name of God and the foundation of Christian existence.

WALTER KASPER is a German cardinal of the Roman Catholic Church. He is president emeritus of the Pontifical Council for Promoting Christian Unity, having served as its president from 2001 to 2010.

Clericalism

THE INSTITUTIONAL DIMENSION OF THE CATHOLIC SEXUAL ABUSE CRISIS

C. COLT ANDERSON,
WITH J. D. LONG GARCÍA

Essential reading for those committed to the renewal of the Church

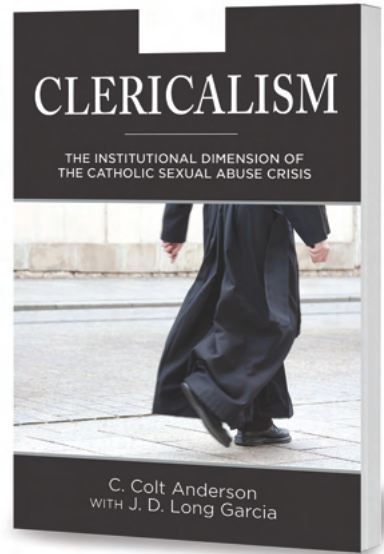

Clericalism confronts what many consider the most urgent and unresolved issue facing the Catholic Church today: the systemic failure to enact lasting reform in the wake of the sexual abuse crisis. Moving beyond surface-level explanations, this timely and courageous book draws on insights from a wide range of secular disciplines—including organizational behavior, sociology, economics, and psychology—to diagnose the deep structural and cultural forces that have allowed clerical abuse and cover-ups to persist.

At the heart of the analysis is clericalism itself: a system of rules, incentives, and unchecked authority that distorts accountability and impedes meaningful change. By tracing how these mechanisms function within Church life, the author offers not only a sharp critique but also a constructive path forward—one that prioritizes transparency, shared responsibility, and the dignity of all the faithful.

Both urgent and hopeful, Clericalism is essential reading for those committed to the renewal of the Church, including lay leaders, clergy, theologians, and anyone seeking to understand—and help heal—the institutional wounds of Catholicism today.

C. COLT ANDERSON is a professor at Fordham University's Graduate School of Religion, specializing in Christian spirituality, ecclesiology, and Church reform. An award-winning author and former dean, he has over 25 years of experience forming lay and ordained ministers.

JOHN DAVID LONG GARCÍA is a senior editor at America Media, covering Latino Catholicism, immigration, and education. A bilingual journalist and past president of the Catholic Media Association, he has received over 100 awards for his work in English and Spanish media.

Mary As You've Never Seen Her Before

A WOMAN FROM SCRIPTURE

ANNE SOUPA AND SYLVAINE LANDRIVON

This book utilizes contemporary exegetical tools to examine devotions to Mary from both biblical and feminist perspectives. The authors make their observations not only through their work on the subject but also through their involvement in the life of the Church. They both approach Marian piety, either their own or that of those close to them, then question the presuppositions of the commentators and, with the help of recent exegetical studies, rejected those that contradict the Scriptures.

Holy Women Making History

KATHLEEN SPROWS CUMMINGS

The stories of women have been largely ignored by most Church historians and easily accessible records of their accomplishments are rare. But communities of women religious have always kept extensive archives, and as more of their members were able to obtain academic training in the discipline of history, these archives were used to tell the stories of their impact on the Church. These are the “holy women making history,” history told from the viewpoint of women rather than men.

Beginning to Pray

ARCHBISHOP ANTHONY BLOOM

Beginning To Pray has established itself as a modern spiritual classic. Hailed by both Catholics and Protestants, it was written by an Orthodox archbishop for people who had never prayed before, and has been read and loved by persons at all levels of spiritual development.

“The realm of God is dangerous,” says the author. “You must enter into it and not just seek information about it....The day when God is absent, when he is silent—that is the beginning of prayer.”

ARCHBISHOP ANTHONY BLOOM was a distinguished Russian Orthodox bishop, spiritual writer, and broadcaster in Great Britain and Ireland. After earning his medical degree in Paris and serving as a French Army surgeon during World War II, he entered monastic life and was ordained in 1948. He went on to lead the Diocese of Sourozh, becoming a profound voice on prayer and Christian life, known internationally for his books.

A Life of Jesus

SHUSAKU ENDOS

From one of Japan’s greatest novelists comes a profound, human portrait of Jesus that bridges literature, faith, and cultural understanding. A simple and powerful retelling of the life of Christ as seen through the eyes of a Japanese novelist.

SHUSAKU ENDO was born in Tokyo in 1923 and converted to Roman Catholicism at the age of eleven. Before his death in 1996, Endo was the recipient of a number of outstanding Japanese literary awards: the Akutagawa Prize, Mainichi Cultural Prize, Shincho Prize, and Tanizaki Prize.
